

WP&L Announces New Hand Held Ink Jet Technology

We are proud to announce the next step in on demand marking, hand held ink jet. After many years of research we are able to take the successful technology associated with fixed station ink jet systems and cross over to the versatile on-demand solutions available in the beginning of this new era in hand-coding. Our NEW EBS-250 is the portable, manual, ultra-compact and light INK-JET printer equipped with a print-head with electromagnetic valves; it is battery operated and radio-controlled. This unique device - weighing only about 2 pounds – has been created to satisfy users for whom the freedom of product marking, coding and labeling in terms of place and time is the fundamental criterion. It is also the device for users who demand low purchase cost, cost-effective operation and not excessively sophisticated practical functions. However, this new unit offers all basic capabilities of INK-JET type printers.

Up to 10 custom messages stored at a time, fixed text printing, multiple fonts and sizes, and dynamic data such as date and time codes are all available. (Barcode printing not available at this time). This unit with its patented print technology replaces antiquated hand coders (such as stencil machines, stamps and roll coders, laborious and expensive in use and problematic with ink management) and prints on a wide variety of surfaces including metal, wood, corrugated, stretch film and much more.
